Education

MAY 2017

Master of Science in Software Engineering (5 Year Integrated Programme) / VIT University, Chennai

Percentage: 71.4%

Relevant Modules: Software Engineering, Human Computer Interaction, Information Systems and Web Technologies.

In our University, we have a project-based learning approach for every course which was done manually. I automated this process into an application that consists of features like review assessment, online document submission within the deadline and much more. Project is “Information Retrieval and Knowledge Management System” which performs the operations of creating an account for students and faculties, submit project reviews, view FAQ of various courses. My Predominant research interest has evolved into three categories that I believe are interconnected. The three areas of interest are Web Technologies, Database Systems, and Information Systems.
